AFTERNOON TEA

A Brief History

Afternoon tea is recognised around the world as being something traditionally British. Nobody knows the exact origins of the afternoon tea but one lady features in all theories, Anna, Seventh Duchess of Bedford (1783-1857), Lady-in-waiting to Her Majesty, Queen Victoria.

Traditionally, dinner was not served until 8.30 or 9.00 in the evening and the Duchess often became hungry, especially in the summer when dinner was served even later. Every afternoon, she experienced a “sinking feeling” and requested sandwiches & cakes between 3pm & 4pm in the afternoon.

Soon others followed the Duchess’ lead. In 1842, a well known actress named Fanny Kemble heard of afternoon tea, and began to invite some guests to join her. Soon all of fashionable London was sipping tea with a variety of sandwiches on the side.

The custom of “taking tea” in the afternoon had become well established, along with a complex set of rules and etiquette.

Afternoon tea prices are subject to change for special occasions. All prices are inclusive of VAT. A discretionary 12.5% Service charge will be added to your bill.

A minimum charge of £37.00 per person will be applied on a Friday, Saturday & Sunday between 12.00 & 19.00 Hours.
